3. How we are paid and any conflicts which may exist

∞ Initial Advice Fee

Where advice is provided, we will charge an upfront fee which will cover the collection and review of your current personal circumstances, strategic analysis and research, preparation of an advice document and the presentation of this advice to you. The initial fee is based on the scope and complexity of the advice to you and will be agreed with you at our first meeting prior to proceeding. It will be signed off in our Terms of Engagement prior to commencing the work.

∞ Implementation Fee

The fee for these services will be agreed with you prior to work commencing, it will also be documented in our Terms of Engagement and will again be disclosed in the Advice Document. The amount charged will depend on the complexity of the transactions and time required to complete our advice to you.

- ∞ Subsequent Advice: Any fees applicable to subsequent and/or “new” Advice will be based on our Fee Structure detailed in our Terms of Engagement. Fees will also be disclosed in the written subsequent advice documents i.e. Statement of Advice or Record of Advice.

∞ Ongoing Fees

Commencing when the recommendations in our Advice document are implemented, we will charge an ongoing fee for the advice and management of your financial affairs.

This fee will be determined in consultation with your adviser and documented in a formal Ongoing Service Agreement. This fee will cover your Annual Review, the regular portfolio evaluations we conduct throughout the year and investment research through regular fund manager / portfolio manager meetings in the year. The fee you will be charged and a comprehensive list of the ongoing services provided will be documented in your Terms of Engagement and Ongoing Service Agreement. The agreed ongoing fee will also be reflected in your initial SoA.

If you enter into an ongoing fee arrangement with us after 30 June 2013, you may be required to confirm this arrangement with us every two years.

In all instances, your adviser will discuss the calculation of the fees when you meet and agree on the services to be provided.

How are fees for services calculated and paid?

Fees charged for our services may be:

- a dollar amount;
- a percentage of the amount invested;
- an hourly rate;
- a combination of some or all of the above, as agreed with you.

Payment of fees for services

We will discuss and agree the method of payment with you before we provide you with our services. Generally, we will either invoice you directly, or deduct from your investments, or adopt a combination of these methods for the fees payable. Cash transactions will not be accepted.

Commissions on Group Life Insurance Products

FinWealth Pty Ltd does not receive any initial or ongoing commission on group life insurance products held through superannuation including employer, corporate or industry superannuation plans. However, existing commission arrangements are grandfathered and will continue to be paid if the product was entered into before 1 July 2014. In instances where we advise that you retain such products we will continue to receive any existing ongoing commissions that are payable.

In respect of all other life insurance products apart from group life insurance products held through superannuation FinWealth Pty Ltd may receive payments in the form of initial commissions and/or ongoing commissions from the product providers for any product you choose to use that is recommended by us. These commissions are included in the fees and / or premiums you pay for the product. You do not pay these fees to us directly.

Commissions received from Life Insurance Providers

Where we recommend a risk insurance product we may receive an initial and ongoing commission from the product provider. This commission is included in your premium and is not a separate charge to you.

Effective from 1 January, 2018 the upfront commission we may receive from Risk product providers is typically between 0%-88% of the first year's premium. We may also receive between 0%-33% of the premium from year two onwards.

The actual commission will be disclosed in your SoA where Risk product advice is provided.

Example

If you pay $1,000 p.a. in premium for a life insurance product recommended to you and the applicable initial commission is 80%, then FFA will receive initial commission of $800 (i.e. $1,000 x 80%). FFA may then pass on anywhere up to the full amount, $800 in this example, to the Principal Practice.

Investment Commissions

FinWealth does not receive initial or ongoing investment commissions for products entered into after 1 July 2014.

Placement Commissions

We may receive one-off placement fees where you invest in some listed investments eg a bank hybrid or an Initial Public Offering (IPO). These will usually be paid by the Issuer of the investment and typically be a set fee of the investment amount eg. 1%. These fees will be disclosed to you in the Advice document at the time of investment.

Licensee Commissions

FinWealth does not accept volume-based commissions which are paid by the investment product providers, insurance companies or platforms.

Other benefits - Register of Small Value Benefits

FinWealth and its Advisers may be entitled to other benefits when providing services to you.

FinWealth and its Advisers keep a register of small value benefits (i.e. $100 to $300 in value) which may be received by them from product and service providers. These benefits are permissible unless they are received frequently or when similar benefits received combine to exceed $300 per annum. If you would like a copy of the register, please ask your adviser and a copy will be made available to you within seven days.

4. Our Advice Process

We recognise that the objectives and personal circumstances of each client are different and what is right for one client may not be right for another. We will always act in your best interest in relation to the advice and financial products we recommend to you. To do this we will listen to you to understand your objectives and ask questions to ensure our advice is in your best interest.

When we provide you with financial planning services your adviser may provide you with the following documents:

- A Statement of Advice (SoA) or Record of Advice (RoA). Before your adviser provides you with any personal financial product advice (personal advice), they will collect information about you, your objectives, financial situation and needs.

The SoA will set out the advice and the basis upon which it is given. You may then decide whether or not to act on it. It will also set out information about our fees (including any applicable commissions) and how your adviser gets paid.

It will set out any associations or relationships which might reasonably be expected to influence us when providing the advice.

Any subsequent personal advice that is provided to you may be documented in an ROA, provided there has not been a significant change in your personal circumstances or the basis upon which the initial advice was provided. Copies of all advice documents will be retained on your client file and you may request a copy by contacting your adviser.

- A Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). If a particular financial product (other than securities) is recommended by your adviser you must also be provided with a PDS issued by the product issuer. The PDS contains information about the benefits, risks and other features of the product, which will enable you to make an informed decision about whether to purchase the product.

Our advice process is outlined in detail below:

Step 1

You will be provided with our Financial Services Guide (FSG) which includes details of your Adviser and the Advice process.

Step 2

You will be asked to provide information about your relevant personal circumstances (i.e. information about your current objectives, financial situation and needs), so we can provide you with appropriate advice. The information collected is recorded in your Client Data Form and the Client Risk Profile assessment.

Step 3

After collecting and understanding your financial information and current circumstances, your adviser will thoroughly research your information and formulate appropriate individual strategies to suit your needs and requirements.

Step 4

A Statement of Advice will be prepared by your Adviser and provided to you. The Statement of Advice will outline recommendations for you and the basis for them.

Step 5

With your approval the recommendations contained in your Statement of Advice will be implemented

Ongoing Reviews

As market conditions, investment opportunities and your personal circumstances are constantly changing it is important to review your situation regularly. FinWealth Advisers will provide an annual review service in which your goals, circumstances, investments and overall strategy will be revisited to ensure you remain on track to meet your objectives.

5. Privacy

We are committed to the confidentiality and security of your personal information. The financial planning process requires us to collect and keep a record of information about you, including sensitive information, in order to provide you with detailed financial advice relevant to your individual circumstances.

We may be required to provide your information to financial service providers on your behalf, whom you engage to carry out a service. If you do not consent to this, or we are unable to collect all the necessary personal information, we will not be able to provide you with the appropriate and relevant financial advice.

In most cases, we collect personal information directly from you. In other cases, we may collect information from third parties which include, but is not limited to, your accountant, your lawyer/solicitor, other financial services institutions, and insurance providers where you have provided consent.

Other legislation may also require us to collect your personal information such as the Anti-Money-Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act (AML/CTF) 2006, and require us to carry out a client identification process.
